CONTINUE THE STORY

The door had been locked for as long as anyone could remember. Mia had walked past it every day on her way to the library, never once wondering what was behind it, until the afternoon the librarian dropped her keys, and one of them, small and tarnished, landed exactly at Mia's feet.

The extract finishes with Mia holding a key to a door that has never been opened. Continue the story, in which you explain what Mia decides to do, what she finds behind the door, and why it matters to her.

You might want to include:

- A description of what Mia finds behind the door
- How Mia's feelings change over the course of the scene
- Both dialogue and description
- Why this discovery matters to Mia
